South End Of Lake Averts Political Oblivion By A Pip

Whitlock Is Constable

Ray Whitlock suits half the voters of South Bay as a constable and a majority of those in the other three precincts. By such an expression constables are made. Ray won with a majority of 192 votes out of a total of 1060; South Bay gave Ray 77 and Seab Reese 77.

Ticket Of Admission To National, State or County Politics Thin.

Palm Beach County Defeated Stuckey For National House

Palm Beach County defeated its own candidate for Congress in the new Sixth District in favor of the alleged father of the Homestead Exemption bill, Dwight Rogers of Ft. Lauderdale. Out of a total of 12,952 votes in the County, 5,224 couldn't see their fellow constable, Lennie Stuckey of Palmetto. Lennie went out of the county with 2,500 majority, while Rogers left home with 4,643 majority out of a total of 7,857.

What has been branded as the best natural harbor south of Baltimore—Port Everglades—is in the new Congressmen's home town. What is known as a made harbor, and one that needs a lot of babying and looking out for in Washington—Port of Palm Beach—receives about 25 per cent of the Glades' state and county taxes. It needs no Solomon to imagine which port would get the breaks in the Rivers and Harbors Committee room if the Congressman is asked to decide—and a Congressman.

the Hendry county line—we gave our Governor-elect a majority of 201 votes out of a total of 573; 337 for Green and 538 for Caldwell.

We find the balance of the Glades giving the wilted bow tie 574 votes. In fourteen precincts where Caldwell led there were 3,733 votes cast and he received a majority of 605. In the south end of the lake with 574 votes, Caldwell had a majority of 201 votes.

Delray and Boca Raton gave the next governor a majority of 188 out of a combined vote of 748.

Palm Beach voted for Caldwell by a majority of 56.

West Palm Beach went for Green by approximately 900 votes.

With our future sheriff a citizen of the Glades and our political sagacity in the Governor's race, we retain a "look-see" at the State and County political table.

Had we lost these, think how filled with mixed feelings, one of the Lake would have been in getting its political nose in any gathering.

Paw Is An Efficient Railroad Man's Man

The misses Penny and Peggy Carlton, bellies of Norfolk, Va., announce that Father Cocky is doing fine and Mother has her arms full. These young Misses recently arrived (period) in Norfolk—the 19th of May—and are doing splendidly well.

Penny, the more burxom of the two—two 7 pounds and 1/4 ounce—assists mother in the care of Penny—four pounds, three and one-half ounce. Local railroaders who served with Cocky in the Glades are doing fine and Mother has her arms full. $3600 Per Car For Celery And Ceiling For Other Edibles

With only 105 cars leaving the Glades for the week, potatoes and celery provided 70 of these. Celery is bringing the luxurious price of $8.00 per crate locally, which helps the boys who are still gathering to make up for some of the $2.25 to $2.50 prices which prevailed for so long. Beans and potatoes are hovering around the ceiling. When the movement from Lake Harbor is included in the totals for the season, a figure well over 15,000 cars will have been piled up. This despite a short crop for the spring in practically all items.

vided music appealing to the taste as well as those of polished appreciation Friday night at the High School Auditorium.

The Norton Gallery Glee Club, under the direction of Knight MacGregor, conductor, gave a concert at the Belle Glade High School Auditorium last Friday night. About 300 persons were present and enjoyed a varied program of music.

Three groups were presented by the Glee Club and soloists for the evening were R. Hansford Dicken and Ted Wills. The concert was sponsored by the Rotary Club for the benefit of the High School Band.

The Norton Gallery Glee Club is now nearly two years old and has gained quite a reputation as an outstanding cultural group in Palm Beach County. In spite of the fact that many members have been lost to the service, it now has a membership of about 35.

The Glee Club recently became a member of the Associated Glee Clubs of America and is the only club in Florida so honored. It is hoped by those present at last Friday night's concert that the services of the Glee Club can be secured again for the citizens of Belle Glade.

GROWERS TO MEET

Florida vegetable growers and shippers, who gather next Wednesday, May 31, at Orlando for the first annual meeting of the Florida Vegetable Committee, are looking forward with optimism to the possibility of laying the foundation for great improvement in price ceilings, labor and materials next year.

It will be a business session from start to finish, according to Committee Chairman E. W. Lins, with no set speeches to interfere with solid round-table discussion of all phases of the problem of the vegetable industry.

The meeting will provide opportunity for the members to present the Florida vegetable problem in its overall aspect, an outstanding representative of the Federal government, Judge Wilson Cowen, the highly-respected assistant administrator of the War Food Administration, Mr. Lins said. "Judge Cowen will be in attendance to learn first hand what the growers and shippers need. The Florida Vegetable Committee meeting furnishes an ideal vehicle to enable the growers to air the true picture from the growers' personally."

"Next Year's Program" is the basic theme of the meeting. Materials, fertilizers, containers, labor and price ceilings are being given their spots on the discussion program.

Eleven new directors representing all phases of the industry and all parts of the state, will be up for election at the meeting.

The sessions of the annual meeting will be held at the Greater Orlando Chamber of Commerce Building, the opening session will start at 10 a. m.

C., will be present this year. This annual session for the state of Florida is scheduled to convene May 25 through June 3. Several thousand Adventists are expected to be in attendance.

Tractor Riding "Grandma" Praises War Bond League

Mrs. C. C. Henkle of Kenton, Ohio, does more than her share of war work. She and her husband run two farms at maximum production and with almost no outside help. In addition, Mrs. Henkle is chairman in her township for War Bond sales, for the Red Cross and for the combined scrap paper and grease salvage campaign. She is also a writer and has composed poems for War Bond and Red Cross programs over Stations WMBM, Marion, and WJLW, Cincinnati.

Mrs. Henkle, who has an Army son, a Navy son, and an Army son-in-law, enthusiastically endorses Mrs. George C. Marshall's appeal to grandmothers to buy Bonds for their grandchildren. She herself takes turns buying Bonds for her grandsons, and her husband has bought 4 months to 11 years. "These Bonds," she says, "will help educate the children and set them up in business and farms ten happy years from now."

The Grandmothers League was organized by General Marshall's wife and has been widely accepted as a worthy and unselfish Bond-buying drive.

Thank You

I wish to thank the voters of Palm Beach County for the splendid vote given me in the Primaries which enables me to serve you as Supervisor of Registration. It is with a sense of deep humility and profound gratitude that I take this means of thanking each of you for the privilege and opportunity of serving you in this important county office. Servicemen's Wives Assisted By Free Care

More than 5,500 servicemen's wives living in Florida have had, or shortly will have, free maternity and childbirth care for themselves and their new-born babies under the program being carried on jointly by the State Board of Health and the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor, an announcement by the Bureau's regional offices in Atlanta said today.

Maternity care for 1,000 servicemen's wives was authorized during March—a per high monthly record—bringing the total authorizations to 5,552 since the joint program was inaugurated in Florida last June 3. Officially known as the Emergency Maternity and Infant Care Program, but commonly known as EMIC, it offers, with the minimum of red tape involved for the applicant, free medical, hospital and nursing care for servicemen's wives during pregnancy, childbirth and six weeks after and also care for the infant during the first year. Legal residence is not a factor in the plan and no questions are asked concerning financial status, for no charity is involved.

Miss Katharine F. Lenort, Chief of the Children's Bureau, has advised the regional office that servicemen's babies, when they become sick, are eligible for this care for one year, even though the mother was not cared for under the EMIC program at the time of the infant's birth. She said that about 10 per cent of the cases now being approved are for medical and hospital care of infants. Many states, she pointed out, are providing additional care for servicemen's families through baby health centers to which she urged the mothers to take their infants regularly.

The EMIC program, for which a total of $23,000,000 has been appropriated to carry it through the present fiscal year, provides free care for wives and infants of men in the four lowest pay grades of the armed services.

This care was authorized for more than 41,000 servicemen's wives and infants throughout the nation in March, the Bureau's statement said. This was a monthly record and brought the total to approximately 270,000 for one year—from the beginning of the program in April, 1943, through March 31, 1944.

Servicemen's wives may obtain application blanks from the State Board of Health in Jacksonville, Red Cross centers and from all hospitals and physicians are paid on a cost basis for the care they provide and in no case, extra payment either by the patient or on behalf of the patient is permitted for either hospital care or physician's services, the Bureau's announcement said.

If the wife has triplets? Don't worry. Uncle Sam will pay!

Major General Norman T. McFaire, surgeons general of the Army and Navy respectively, joined recently in expressing appreciation of the contribution doctors, hospitals and nurses are making under this war time program to instill greater confidence in the country's fighting men overseas, according to the Children's Bureau.

Farmers Urged To Buy Fertilizer Early

Little Dow VanLandingham, director, has returned from attending the Miami Production Credit Association's 10th anniversary meeting May 3, 1944, in Miami, Fla., where approximately 28 members attended.

One member, W. H. Owens, of Gadsden, of the Board of Directors, was elected for a three-year term.

Ten ten-year members were present, some of whom were called on by W. H. Owens, president of the association, to relate their experience as production credit association members.

A report was made by George F. Wills, secretary-treasurer of the association. This showed that the 33-member cooperative organization was in sound financial condition. The Miami association, since its establishment on December 20, 1933, has made 1,381 loans, amounting to $7,029,065 to the farmers of Broward, Collier, Duval, Indian River, Martin, Monroe, Okechobee, Palm Beach and St. Lucie counties. Losses on loans made have been $2,503 or less than .05 of one per cent. Farmers own $63,254.00, according to the association and reserves to provide this investment amount to $80,254.00, according to the association.

During the meeting members of the association were urged to buy their fertilizer early. It was pointed out that early and continuous movement of fertilizer from the factory to the farmer is essential if it is to be in the hands of farmers in time to make its necessary contribution to the food production program. It was also stressed that there was a strong possibility of congestion of deliveries at the time when fertilizer is needed, due to limited storage space in factories, labor problems, supplies and transportation.

Dr. Sheely Gives Advice On Fattening Cattle

Bulls — Good breeding beef bulls are the foundation of beef production. How does a man use his own judgment in selecting a bull? What is a good bull worth? Who knows?

How would you like to see one of the long-legged, shallow-bodied, slab-sided, long-headed, sway-backed, cut-hammed, mis-marked individuals in your

Will you help their calls get through this evening?

been? Bulls of that sort too often find their way in the service. Such bulls mean dissatisfaction, disappointment, and financial loss along with a degrading of the herd.

Bulls of good type, good breeding, that are prepotent and produce calves that are better than the average calves with straight backs, well-sprung ribs, thick loins, good hind quarters, are worth just what it takes to get him or to raise him.

One way to reduce the number of poor quality bulls is to use a knife and make more steers. A purveyor breeder cannot afford to sell these low class bulls for it will injure his business and the commercial breeder cannot afford to buy such bulls because they will produce poor quality beef. Therefore, it is necessary that each beef cattleman use the best quality bulls at his command.

Beef Cattle—Excel all other livestock in producing meat from products that are inedible to men such as grass, hay, straw, and stover. They convert these rough raw materials into highly nutritious meat for our war emergency and home consumption. This fact is highly essential due to shortage of grain feeds.

Since beef cattle production depend on grass and forage crops it is essential that cattlemen make maximum use of grass and sell fat cattle when they have made their greatest gains and before they start to lose flesh. Stocker and feeder cattle should be sent to the market or feed pens before the grass becomes tough and fibrous. Less in weight and condition means a lower price for the same grade animal.

Mineral Supplements—Cattle do not get all the minerals they need from grass on many Florida ranges. On these mineral deficient areas it is necessary that animals be furnished with salt, salt lick, cobalt, and phosphorus. Ordinary bone meal is not obtainable now. Defluorinated super phosphate can be fed in the place of bone meal. Bone-chewing is a sign that cows need phosphorus. Animals suffering from lack of this mineral may be suffering from lack of calcium and, in many cases, develop toxic symptoms from chewing putrid animal carcasses. Creeps, sweeney, and stiffs, are familiar names in areas where phosphorus is deficient. Lack of phosphorus means poor weak cows, a short calf crop followed by a heavy winter death rate. Salt lick-lick with cobalt along with salt and defluorinated phosphate should be made

PRUDENCE: But his estate? You always believed in investments...
WOMAN: Yes, Prudence, but it's all gone. There was $25,000 we saved and sacrificed all our lives to pay for it.

PRUDENCE: There, there, Ma'am! Don't cry...
WOMAN: You'd cry, too, Prudence, if you had my troubles!

PRUDENCE: $25,000! That ought to be a great help...
WOMAN: No, Prudence. It was wiped up by inflation. Prices went up up up 'til they couldn't go higher, then fell so hard they wiped out investments...

PRUDENCE: I heard you'd lost your husband. I was sorry...
WOMAN: Yes, I miss him. But now, with the children to feed and clothes I have to scrub floors... at my age...

WOMAN (continues)—the banks failed—we lost all! I make $1000 a week scrubbing floors and that won't even buy the children's food today. I don't know what will happen to me!

Inflation is one enemy we can all fight and beat...by buying only what we need, by conserving what we have, by putting every dollar we can into fighting the War and ensuring a sound post-war America...through buying and holding War bonds and increasing our savings.
